

Composition of the international panel

Professor Peter Gundelach, Department of Sociology, Copenhagen University (chairman)

Main research areas: Sociology, Values and Organizations.

Extensive experience in Danish, Nordic and European Research Cooperation, Research Management, Funding, and Evaluation. Chairman of the Danish Minister of Social Affairs' Committee on research in Social Work (1997-1998); Member of the assessment committee for Norwegian sociology (2010).

Professor Jane L. Parpart, Department of Conflict Resolution, Human Security, and Global Governance, University of Massachusetts, Boston

Main research areas: History, International Development Studies, Gender and Colonial Studies.

Wide-ranging experiences in international doctoral training from the US, Canada, United Kingdom, South Africa, the Caribbean, and Scandinavia.

Professor emeritus Per Lauvås, University of Oslo/Østfold University College

Main research areas: Education, University Teaching and Learning; PhD supervision.

Extensive experience in higher education, cross-disciplinary and problem based learning. Has worked as Educational Consultant in more than 10 countries.